
KARIN

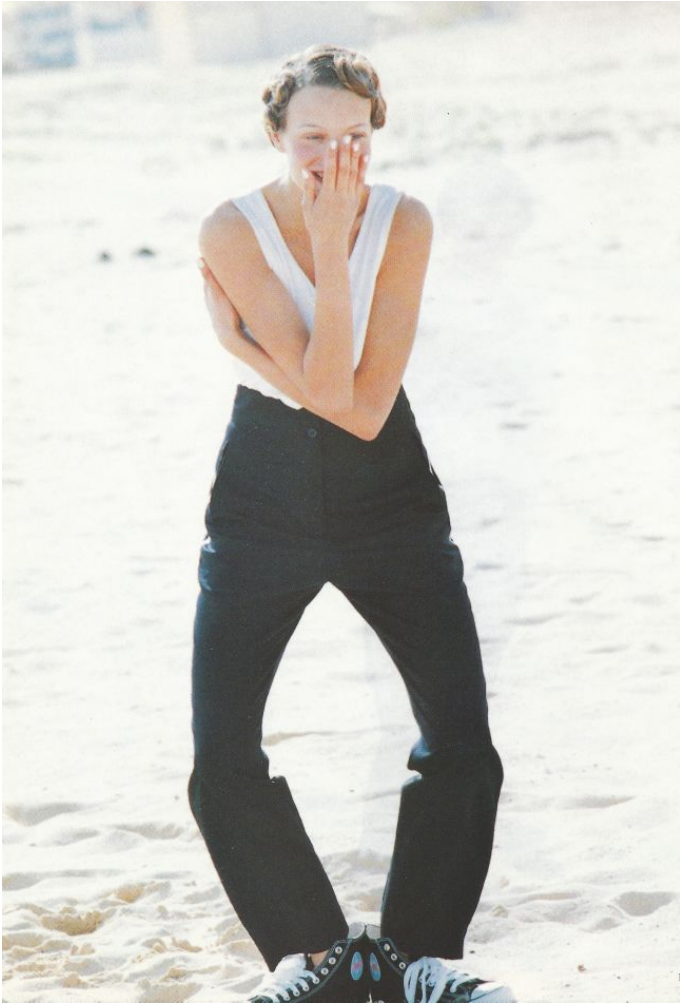

MODELS AGENCY

NESSIE GITLIS

KARIN

MODELS AGENCY

NESSIE GITLIS

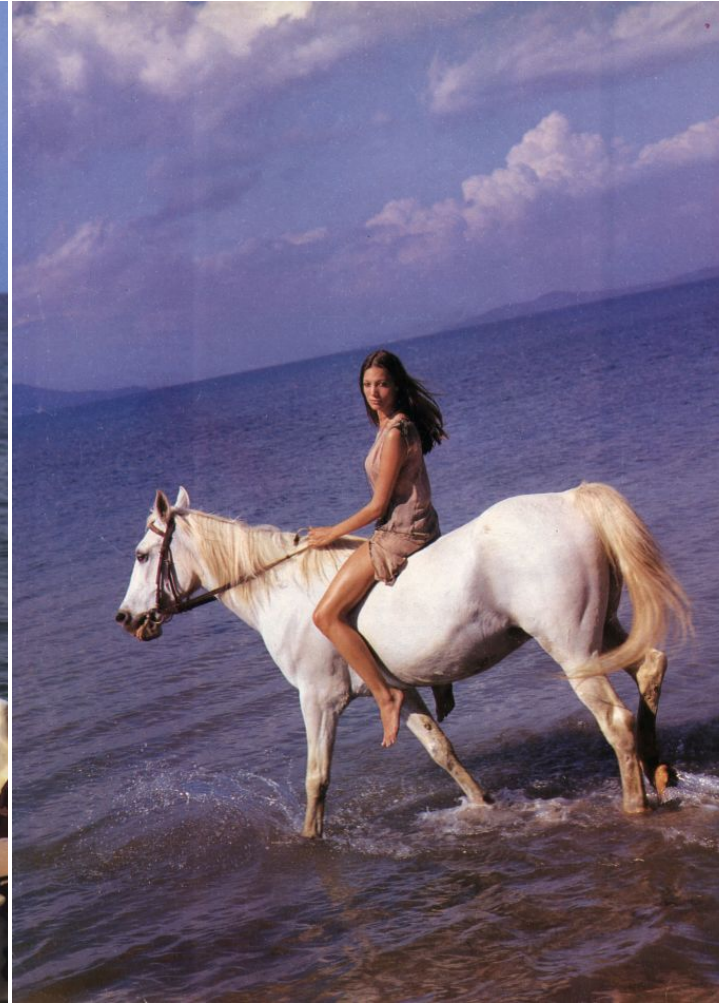

KARIN
MODELS AGENCY

NESSIE GITLIS

KARIN

MODELS AGENCY

NESSIE GITLIS

KARIN

MODELS AGENCY

NESSIE GITLIS

the cosmopolitan fashion awards

British Ready-to-Wear Designers

It's votes for women, it seems, in this category – the five British collections that received the most votes are all designed by women (Tanya Sarne is the designer behind the Ghost label). Here, alongside key looks from their autumn collections, your top six each give their view on where fashion is heading.

1
KATHARINE HAMNETT

"The lines have become much cleaner and simpler," says Katharine Hamnett. "Despite the criticism that current fashion is retro, I think it's looking more modern. Fashion is becoming more wearable and colour is coming through, although work uniforms still seem to be in black and white."

BELTED JACKET
in velvet, £510.
MATCHING TROUSERS
£275.

KARIN

MODELS AGENCY

NESSIE GITLIS

KARIN

MODELS AGENCY
